“ Oh Herbie, my dear sweet nephew. Why now? It's way too soon. I'm thankful I saw you just a couple months ago, but deeply saddened that I will never hug you again. You give the best hugs! Just 34 months apart, I became your auntie before I turned three. Growing up you never addressed me as aunt or auntie like you have now as an adult. We spent a lot of time together as children. Not nearly enough as adults. We were more like siblings, you, Kerry and I. I will forever cherish those memories and hold you near, close to my heart. I love you Herbie!

“ I remember that year we came down to visit you and the kids from Vermont, to spend Christmas together. We all had so much fun! You were always so welcoming and fun to hang out with. Telling us stories and memories of the past. We all shared some pretty good memories that Christmas that I will never forget!!!

You and my dad were also so close back in your younger days and I know you've always been there for him no matter what.

I remember when you actually came to stay with us in Vermont for awhile because he needed you too and you did that for him❤️

I've always thought you were the coolest cuz 😎

Now it's just so hard to except that you're gone. I just saw you a few months ago 😞 Gone way too soon! Wish I could have one more chat with you, & just one more hug 💔

You may be gone, but DEFINITELY NOT FORGOTTEN 🌟🕯️

I LOVE YOU CUZ , FLY HIGH

Say hi to Pepe for me ❤️

“ Well I have known you my whole life..... you were my first boyfriend at like 5 years old! Lol

We shared so many teenage memories and then so many more in our early 20's (one of my favorites was your sisters wedding).

We lost touch (marriage, raising kids, life, etc) but about 10 years back got in touch again and shared some great chats. I hadn't seen you in awhile but seeing you last year it was like old times. I love you my friend... will miss you and until we see each other again💔💔💔💔

“ I remember Herbie as a teenager. He used to live with my husband, at the time, and he was so funny. Later on we lost touch but, when I saw him later on we hugged and I thought we had never been apart. We lost touch these last few years but, I know we would never forget our love for one other and we would hug again one day. I love you Herb and no one will ever take your place in my heart.

“ Herbie had a heart of gold! When we were a lot younger, he would always say to me that if I every had any problems, to reach out to him. When my mom and step-father divorced and even before that, I had lost touch with him. Recently, when I saw him again, he recognized me right away, came right over to me, gave me a big ole hug and told me the same thing. If I ever needed anything to let him know. We may not be blood related, but he treated me like a brother and I will never forget that about him.

Rest In Peace my cousin, my brother, and my friend. You will be missed by all.
