“ So many memories with my beautiful Meme. This is one of my favorites. I brought her to my favorite spot on Wachusett Mountain, I normally hike the trails but I wanted to share this special spot of mine with Meme as she and I were so close. I drove us up to the top of the mountain and guided her by hand down a short trail and we sat on a blanket for a little over an hour just watching the sunset and enjoying being in each other’s company. We’d often talk about spirituality, our favorite true crime documentaries or Netflix shows, my dating life, work and our family. We could talk for hours and hours and she was always such a good listener. A truly beautiful memory that I will always cherish ☐
