“ I got to know David a while back, by way of his sister Mary. I got to spend time with him and hear about all the amazing things he wanted to build and do and visit his little room in Pepperell with the loft - all sorts of adventures over a very few years. He had a different way of approaching things, which I always appreciated. I was quite happy we got re-connected over the internet over the last three years, and I was able to give him some encouragement and pointers when in a job search. I was also glad that he had found his Savior, so I am glad I'll see him again, and, as I wrote elsewhere, we can discuss the other side of the sky. Until then, David, fly free and fast!

“ So many memories, so many trips to the drive-in movies in the rattletrap AMC Rebel station wagon, launching rockets with an electronic timer that Dave invented, hanging out at the sandpit, almost being co-stars of a terrible play, the "bet penny" that I think I still have somewhere...

“ Dave was an amazing neighbor for many years, always quiet and pleasant - always greeting my wife and me whenever we happened to meet in passing. Helpful wherever he could be, a truly conscientious man. His thirst for understanding and learning about new technology was a not-so-hidden gem of his personality, as I would frequently learn of the newest gadget or software from him when we'd pass on our shared landing. I am truly sorry for his passing, he will be missed. May he Rest In Peace.
