

Frank Girolamo

May 18, 2017

Frank was born in East Boston on January 1, 1954 a son of the late Carmen and Elena (Petrola). He grew up in the city surrounded by his large, extended Italian family. His siblings and cousins played stick ball in the streets, took the train everywhere, and gathered on the stoop of the tenement building they grew up in. The only time they were inside was Sunday afternoons, when he said 'you could hear a pin drop on the streets of East Boston', as every family gathered for macaroni dinner.

Frank spent his life doing the two things he enjoyed most, making people laugh and making people food. His friends, co-workers and family will tell you that his brilliant humor, wit, and ability to make everyone around him feel both special and unique were simply unmatched.

His talent for cooking was not limited to Italian food, though that was certainly his specialty. He could grill better than anyone, roast a lamb better than anyone, and make a 'sang-wich' better than anyone.

He loved all his people deeply, but especially his family. His grandchildren were his pride and joy and it was a rare occasion that a conversation began and ended without him mentioning one or all of them.

He loved to travel with his wife, Kathy, especially to Italy. He would send his children 'before' and 'after' pictures of his plate so they knew how beautiful and how delicious the food was in every town they visited.

Besides Italy, his favorite places on Earth were Pagliuca's, in Boston's North End, the Market Basket, the Home Depot and his living room recliner.

He leaves behind his wife Kathy of 37 years, his daughter Lisa, his daughter Nicole and son-in-law Matthew, who he claimed was his favorite child, and his son Jeffrey. He leaves behind seven adoring grandchildren: Jack, Isabel, Tommy, Emma, Cole, William and James, who lovingly referred to him as their Nunu. He leaves behind five siblings: Mark and his wife Eva, Joyce and her husband Francis, Joe and his wife Rene, Jayne and her husband Jim, Kim and her husband Glenn and a brother-in-law, Dave, brother-in-law Harold and a sister-in-law Karen. He leaves behind cousins, nieces and nephews and many, many wonderful friends.

“ Farnoosh hope it's not too late for me to add my 2 cents here.....
I'm in sales so meeting customers is a big part of my business. I'd say 50% are late and the other half usually about on time. I usually find that the ones who are late, or say they will get things to you by a certain date and don't, or don't call you when they say they will....never pan out. If they don't respect you enough in the beginning to be on time or keep their word about things, they never will. I'm not rude, nor do I feel the need to tell them off in any way, I just shrug it off to "it takes all kinds in this world" and move on.

“ My brother Joseph and I are deeply saddened to hear of the passing of a dear old friend from our collective days on the streets and ball fields of East Boston. Frankie was truly a great kid among the many friends we still remember in the 'old days' of Eastie. My brother was very close to him as they played on many of the same baseball teams - as a pitcher, my brother still remembers how Frankie would break up a no-hitter or just be the kid he could not strike out - a heck of a ball player and really great person. Although many of us parted our ways and have moved on from those times, my brother and I still talk fondly of the bonds we made in our young lives, and Frank was someone we always brought up in our conversations - just a fun and truly genuine person. My brother is presently in Italy and I'm sure he would convey similar sentiments about Frankie.

Our prayers are with the family during these times.

Feel no guilt in laughter Frankie knows how much you all care. Feel no sorrow in a smile that he's not here to share. You cannot grieve forever he would not want you to. He hope you would carry on the way you always do. So always talk about the good times and the ways you always showed you care the days you spent together all the happiness you all shared let the memories surround you, a word someone might say will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day that brings him back as clearly as though he was still here and fills you with the feelings, that he's always near for if you keep those memories you will never be apart and they will live forever safely locked in your hearts..My memories of Frankie always a gentleman and funny I know my brother Alby is with him playing half ball...

“ I am so saddened to hear about "Frankie" as we called him growing up in Eastie. I often reminisce about those days, we had the best times. I know this is a very difficult time for all of you but your closeness, support and love for each other will certainly get you through this. My thoughts and prayers are with all of you. Love cousin, Rosemary

“ There are no words to express how saddened we are to hear of Frank's passing. Dave and I both had the pleasure of working with him. He was always so funny and easy going. He could make you laugh even during the most trying times. He will never be forgotten. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his entire family. As Frank might say "Orange you glad you knew him"...

“ The few encounters we had with Frank he treated you like you knew him all your life. So easy to talk to. When we were at a family get together and Frank was there he always made a point to come over to my wife and me to say hello. ment a lot. A lasting impression .

We are so very sorry for your loss and we pray that God gives you all the strength you need to get through your healing.

“ While we may no longer be able to enjoy in person his larger than life personality, we will continue to smile and laugh out loud when reminded of things he said, things he did, the "look" and how he touched so many people. The void he leaves in us is difficult to measure but life is so much better for having spent time with him.

“ Frank was one of the nicest and funniest people I have ever known. I loved him! We were involved in baseball together in the late 80s and early 90s. We'd go to Slattery's on Friday nights. Such a loss for everyone who knew him.

“ Frank was all class. He made everyone feel special. Frank was a gentleman, a proud father, a loving husband, a special friend to many and a person that brought out the best in everyone. I will always cherish the times I spent with Frank. They were fun and always memorable. I am so sad for the loss the family has suffered. Keeping the love alive in honor of Frank.
