“ I met Gary working at NEBS, I think I met everyone that I know there. It was like one big family working second shift.

Gary was a quiet person and becoming supervisor in the pressroom on second shift suited him well after all the time he operated a printing press. What a difference from seeing him in the pressroom with t-shirt and jeans then dress shirt and dress pants. Gary was a fair supervisor.

Though some of us moved on eventually from NEBS to other careers often you run into someone either in the supermarket, wal mart, hardware store, restaurant or just around town and you stop say hello and conversation goes on like you never missed a beat. Gary will be missed. I am so sad that I missed my opportunity to visit him and tell him myself that he was one of the best Supervisors I had ever had at NEBS, I know this is a lesson that I have learned once again to not wait to tell the people that you know you care about them, they made a difference. Maureen, I am so sorry for your loss, Gary was all about you and you could see it. Then he was all about his children and grandchildren.

Gary will now watch down over you all and keep you wrapped in his protective wings.

My condolences to the Borneman Family.
