“ I fail to see why you people who made this layout thought we'd like it. Half the time, videos don't load, the new rating system is a joke, I can't find video responses anymore among all the comments, and you've just about lost my trust. Do this one more time, and I'm leaving for Danymlotioi.

“ I'm friends with George's son Dave, although I had not seen George in many years. Back in high school, a bunch of us would gather every Friday night at George and Jean's house in Billerica. George had a witty sense of humor and was good on verbal comebacks, both of which were 100% necessary when he had 8 to 10 high school and college kids hanging out in the basement. I remember the first time I met him thinking, "That guy has been in the military," ha!

“ I remember the numerous times we visited George, Jean and the family. George was always so welcoming, and Jean always cooked a delicious Italian meal. He had the most resounding voice and laugh, as he recounted many funny stories. We loved visiting.
