“ We love you Gloria and will miss you terribly! I am happy you are not in pain and are now in God's arms. We loved playing Quiddler with you and Phil and all the trips we shared. Your 4th of July celebration last year was another great celebration with you and your family!

“ To Phil: I am heartbroken to hear she has gone so young. Some of our most favorite memories were playing volleyball, working on our cars and trucks, having some real good times up at your home. Always such gracious and loving was Gloria, the patience of a Saint with us bunch of rowdies. God bless her on the journey to be with other loved ones on the other side. We will miss her dearly.

“ I'm so sad for your loss, breathe through the pain, and let it help you grow. She is on her next adventure, her love and guidance will continue with you in a new way.

I was so glad I got to see her, and shared hidden glory from the past. Aunt Glo was inspirational in helping my mom start collecting antiques and going yard sales. I hadn't remembered the yard sale trips with her until I saw her, her eyes lit up. My mom never drove, and Aunt Glo would take me and mom out to yard sales when I was very young. They would find antique dolls, and it was a rush to see who got to them first.

*Sale on Aunt Glo...

“ Nan , I love you so much . I know ya girls haven't been able to be around but we love you near and far . All of our childhood memories were up at your house with you and gramps . All of the long weekends us girls would spend up there while our parents worked on cars . Helping pick up crab apples for you in your yard and sweeping for gramps . You always found us kids awesome bikes at yard sales so we could ride them up there . My first trip to Boston was with you for my 13th birthday we took the train in I'll never forget it . And going to the movie theater with us kids . You were always so full of life and always up for an adventure. I'm glad I was able to see you last week and give you kisses and tell you I love you and how beautiful you are while you still knew it was me saying it to you . You're home now with god ... I'll always cherish our memories and keep you alive in my heart ❤️ rest peacefully nan

“ I will miss you Mom. You taught me strength and a good sense of humor. I am so blessed to have spend the last 3 days of your life together. Ok so my singing to you in the middle of the night might not make the charts, but you seemed to find comfort. You are forever in my heart. I love you Mom

Gloria, I only met you once at a birthday celebration for your daughter Karen. I could tell you were a strong, kind, family oriented, fun woman to be around. I could also see the happiness you and your husband and family all shared together and you will be sorely missed by them all. If I could say one thing to you, I would have to sincerely thank you for your daughter Karen. She has been a very special friend to me and has been there for me at times when I really needed a friend. Bless you and may you rest in peace along side my Mother.
