

Janet Lee Tapply Charron

June 30, 1930 - March 17, 2024

Janet Lee (Pearson) Tapply Charron, age 93 of Merrimack, NH, (formerly of Lunenburg, MA, Amherst, NH and Huntsville, TX), passed away on March 17, 2024. She was born on June 30, 1930 in Fitchburg, Massachusetts to the late Richard Stanley Pearson, Sr. and Madeline Winsor (Brown) Pearson. She was one of twelve children.

She graduated from Fitchburg High School, Fitchburg, MA in 1948 with high honors. She attended Burbank Hospital School of Nursing, also graduating with honors. In 1972 she attended Massachusetts General Hospital's initial Family Nurse Practitioner Program which was taught by Harvard Medical School. She became a nurse practitioner for Dr. Robert Babineau, Sr and his son Dr. Robert Babineau, Jr. at Fitchburg Family Practice. She was one of the pioneers in establishing family nurse practitioners as independent health care providers. She loved her work and the patients were uppermost in her service to them.

Janet had a deep love for her family. She grew up in a large family during the depression. While life was not always easy, "there was always room for one more at the table." She loved cooking and sharing meals with family and friends.

She had a green thumb. She had large vegetable gardens and canned and froze her bounty. She grew plants of all kinds indoors, propagated African violets and cactus. She would place her cactus outdoors under a shady tree during the Spring and Summer and bring them indoors in the Fall and Winter for a spectacular display.

She was a very dedicated Christian and spent many years active in her church, Christ Church, Fitchburg, MA. She was an active member singing in the choir, on the Vestry, was a choir mother, taught Sunday school and was a member of the Women's Evening Guild.

In retirement, Janet and Ray traveled extensively across the country in their RV. They hunted in West Texas and fished for bass in Lake Livingston and salmon in Alaska. They also loved taking cruises to Alaska and the Caribbean.

Janet is survived by two sisters; Nancy A. Smith of Parkland, FL and Joan C. Williamson of Wolfeboro, NH, two sons Jon K. Tapply and his wife Rhonda E. Tapply of Merrimack, NH and Douglas S. Tapply and his wife Cheryl Tapply of Penacook, NH and one daughter Gretchen L. Newton of Fitchburg, MA. She is survived by eleven grandchildren: Peter R. Newton, Kevin J. Newton, Erica M. Austin, Matthew L. Tapply, Michael J. Tapply, Lucas D. Tapply, Rachel H. Jones, James R. Osborne, Roger A. Veilleux, Michaela K. J. Scherer, Jack C. P. Newton and Michael D. Tapply and her granddaughter Sarah M. Tapply.

Janet was a dear friend for many years. We were always having fun, even when working. We went to the beach, plays, out to dinner, playing cards and just enjoying life. I will always remember our good times at work, making it pleasant for the patients, and of course the doctors. May she rest in peace and enjoy seeing her mom, dad, relatives and family. Much love my friend. Joanne Turell Lussier

Aunt Janet was one of my favorite aunts. She was the sweetest woman I have ever known. The patience she had to teach me how to crochet was incredible. I will always love her for that. I loved our talks we had when she came down to Florida. She was always a very happy person. She will be dearly missed but always in my heart. May you rest in peace aunt Janet . Love you always, Tricia

Aunt Janet always treated everyone as a friend. And (as you all know) she LOVED company. If you ever were invited to her home for dinner and went away hungry then that would be your fault because she loved cooking for guests. And she always had a variety of food that she served. She and I role-played, she was Juliet and I was her Romeo. I look forward to seeing her in heaven Juliet.

Wanted to attend the funeral (and bring my Mom) but couldn't make it work. Will very much miss Aunt Janet... she was such a pleasure to be around. That positive spirit drew people to her and being with her always meant having a good time. Her cooking and green thumb are legendary. Will miss not being able to visit her when we came to New England. Rest in peace sweet Janet
