“ We are so very sorry for your loss.

Ray, I had my own notion of Grief. I had thought it was a sad time that followed the death of a loved one and you just had to push through it to get to the other side.

But I have learned the there is no other side, there is no pushing through it, but rather there is: absorption, adjustment and acceptance.

And Grief is not something that you complete, but rather you endure. Grief is not a task to finish, and move on, But rather an element of yourself - an alteration of your being. It is a new way of seeing a new definition life and of death. She is now with God. Take solace in the fact she had a wonderful loving life.
