“ John was a very special student, neighbor and friend who I always thought was a Renaissance man, as he tackled numerous ventures from raising pigs and turkeys, establishing a soda company, assisting with an Explorer group who helped in rescue, a police officer, and commander of the American Legion. John did many other ventures, but one I particularly liked was his being Constable at all voting in our town. He would always talk to voters who were checked out to make one feel needed. Many times I voted just to converse with John. I truly miss him--my very special friend.
