Dear God,

Watch me as I sleep,
I may not wake, but
Please don't weep.
Just scatter me o'er beach and sea,
and happy I will ever be.

Take my lovely and beloved things
To share between my children and their offspring.
God, please let there no anger be.
Do that for me, and tenderly.

What I leave is not of earth,
But longer lasting,
With much more worth.
Happiness to those I love,
peace of mind from God above,
kindness to your fellow man
helping others all you can.
The greatest love shall ever be from your Mom, eternally.

– June Philomena to her children

“ June was a wonderful, talented artist and poet. I enjoyed her visits to my bookstore over many years whenever she was in Webster. It was an honor to know her and share her work. Sincerest condolences to you and your family.

“ The first two photos is a visit that me and Kitty made on August 25, 2015. We were entertained by June as she played her piano for us in which we enjoyed so much and it was so wonderful to listen to her God-given talent! The third photo is when Larry & Kitty went to visit June of this year and I had asked them before they left that when they got to June's home if they would do a video call so she could play the piano for me and this is the photo from the video call and it was such a blessing to once again see her and hear that beautiful music what a blessing God gave her to bless others. I will always hold that memory dear to me!!
