

Nicholas G. Lockyer

November 7, 1978 - August 13, 2025

Nicholas G. Lockyer, 46, of Lunenburg, formerly of Townsend, passed away peacefully on Wednesday morning, August 13, 2025, at his home.

Nick was born in Niskayuna, NY on November 7, 1978, a son of Jeffrey and Theresa (Carlo) Lockyer. Nick moved to Townsend, MA as a child and graduated from North Middlesex Regional High School. Nick later completed vocational training in Industrial and Commercial Refrigeration at The Peterson School in Westwood, MA and received HVACR EPA Universal Certification.

From a young age, Nick showed a remarkable gift for all things mechanical. There was nothing he couldn't fix, no puzzle he couldn't solve, and no engine he couldn't restore. His skill and creativity amazed everyone who knew him.

Nick began his career working for JP Sullivan & Co. Apple Packaging Company. He enjoyed planting, grafting, and pruning fruit trees in addition to splitting and delivering wood. He managed the Packing and Distribution Facility at Devens Cold Storage, where he oversaw approximately 40 staff and performed maintenance and repairs to the packing plant machinery and property. In his spare time, he even designed computer programs to streamline timecard information. Nick was very proud of the fact that, during his many years as manager, the plant was only down one day.

Nick was knowledgeable in plumbing, electrical work, carpentry, and home repair/renovation. He also worked as a landscaper, landscape designer, antique bell restorer, and refrigeration consultant. In the winter months, you would find him smiling behind the wheel of his plow truck.

When he wasn't working, Nick loved spending time with his beloved son, George. He cherished the time they spent together building, repairing, and customizing cars, trucks, motorcycles, electric bikes, 4-wheelers, boats, guitars and their golf cart.

Throughout his life, Nick played baseball, hockey, skateboarded, snowboarded, rode dirt bikes, played guitar (Racket, All In), and painted landscapes. He enjoyed camping under the stars, gathering around a campfire, fishing, cruising in his classic cars, truck (monster or otherwise) or one of his motorcycles, playing music, and teaching others. More recently, Nick could be found enthusiastically making final preparations for his entry into the sport of powered paragliding.

Nick is survived by his son, George Lockyer, whom he shared with his former spouse, Amy Guido; his grandmother, Mary Carlo; his parents, Jeffrey Lockyer and Theresa (Kevin Corr Sr.) Carlo; his brother, Brandon (Sascha) Lockyer; his stepbrother, Kevin (Erin) Corr Jr.; his nieces, Rose, Cassie, Farrah. Nick also leaves behind other members of his loving family, including aunts, uncles, cousins, many who referred to him as Uncle "Mick", and his dog and faithful companion, Bella.

Nick had a rare gift for connection. He never considered anyone a stranger, only friends he hadn't gotten to know yet. His warmth, humor, and kindness left an indelible impression on everyone he encountered.

“ My deepest condolences to Nicks family, his son, and close friends. Nick was very loved and such a kind soul. From Going swimming, talking life, playing w the kids, to talking automobiles and gas powered toys and tinkering on the toys and with him. I just came across the Apple computer box filled with paint markers and our artwork last week, but just found out today. . Always with the cowboy hat on his head I was blessed to have donned a time or two. Love you Nick!☐ May you rest in eternal peace, hug my pops and son. Youre a beautiful angel in life and now from above. Watch over and keep that beautiful spirit flowing. 🙏

“ Even the shock we have experienced, even the deep sadness during this time can not keep from awareness Nick’s irresistible way of making us smile...tears mingle with countless echoes of laughter. To be around Nick was to be lighthearted and happy. His energy of being helpful and kind and funny was a gift he had and gave to the world.

So grateful for Nick and Jeff’s help clearing out Mom’s house...it was a huge project and they did it beautifully!

Nick and Brandon occasionally stayed at our house for weekends with their Dad when they were little kids. Nick was 7 or 8. I came downstairs one morning and found Nick at the kitchen table. He had taken apart a lighter to figure out how it worked...and he put it back together again. Figuring out how things worked definitely made him a great mechanic. I think Nick could fix anything!

Spirit hug to Jeff, Theresa, Brandon, George...Cole and all Nick’s cousins...to his whole family and to his many friends. Nick, you will always live in our hearts. Thank you for your loving kindness and how your handsome face always lit up with a wonderful smile.

Blessings to you on your new journey, dear man 🙏❤️🕊️

“ Nick was taken from us far too soon. Nick shared his warm, caring spirit with all who knew him. Until we read Nick's obituary, my wife, Karen, and I never realized how talented he was in so many fields, yet we always appreciated his generosity, wisdom and willingness to help others. While helping me with work on our new garage over a decade ago, Nick noticed the antique brass bell from a steam locomotive sitting in our front yard. It had been given to Karen's dad on his retirement from the Pennsylvania Railroad. Of course, Nick immediately offered to restore it. Nick went right to work and did a fabulous job turning the tarnished green brass back to shiny gold and restoring the rusted steel armature to its original black and red. Nick even took me to a stone yard to select a new base for the historic bell. Today, the bell sits in our front yard in memory of Karen's dad, Bill, and now, of our dear friend Nick. Nick, you were one of a kind and will forever be remembered.
