“ The first time our family got to know Sara was in April 2016 when she and Judy (my sister) came on vacation with us to Aruba. Our kids immediately took to her and I saw how much she and Judy cared for one another. I am so thankful we got to spend this time together and it was before her illness. Judy told me while in Aruba that Sara’s birthday was that week so I ventured to the most Americanized grocery store I could find, and made her an Oreo pie with this crazy smiley face with spiked hair design on top of the pie, made out of pretzels! We had birthday dinner on the patio of the penthouse we were renting. What a fun time and that’s what I will remember most.
