“ I’m just embarking on my journey as a entrepreneur and I never considered writing a manifesto until now after reading this post. Honestly I don’t think I grasp the full concept of a manifesto being a source of balance in your life and work until reading this post. I’m so inspired and now I will consider it even more carefully now. Thank you for sharing your experience with us. I’ve learned a great deal of being reflective and aware of who you are at your core! Wow powerful! Thanks again!
