“ I was saddened to learn of Bill's recent passing. He worked in my engineering groups at C.R. Bard and Act Medical, and helped me as a consultant in my Mallinckrodt Medical plant in Texas. Bill was one of the most innovative problem solvers I have ever met, and he was a good friend. Careers took us apart, but I had been reaching out to him over the past months to reconnect, but alas life had other plans. He was a devoted husband and father, and will be greatly missed.
